Senior Prom Plans Finalized

Last week Senior Class President Rich Yu announced the formulized plans for this year's Senior Prom, "Take the Money and Run". The prom, scheduled for May 28th will, due to lack of funds, be held in room 101 with the after prom following in the cafeteria. The menu will consist of, Big Mac, or Quarter Pounder. (avail with or without a large order of fries. McDonaldland cookies, and a milkshake or Tab for you night watchers. The entertainment will be provided by the SHS Marching Band while the after prom festivities will be led by Jim Kelly and the Roving Quarters. The cost of a ticket is $2.95 (or the equivalent in S&H Green stamps) and attire is optional. The King and Queen will be crowned near the hot food counter in the cafeteria to add to the gala festivities. Seniors are encouraged to purchase their tickets early due to the fact that room 101 only holds 17 people. Those lucky few that do attend, however, will probably never forget the night as long as they live. The Roundtable did seek an interview with class President Rich Yu to inquire as to the disappearance of the $5000 in the senior class treasury however it was soon learned that Rich and the other Sr. Class officers were vacationing in Acapulco and subsequently were unavailable for comment. In conclusion the Roundtable would like to wish the Sr. class the best of luck in pulling off the most original Sr. Prom in SHS history.

New Rewards for Seniors

The Student Advisory Board has decided that instead of merely exempting "A" students from finals they will also be rewarded with extra priveleges. They stated that any student who did conspicuously well this year will be allowed two weeks of excused vacation to be taken any time during the year. In the case of seniors, anyone falling within this class of excellence will be excused from attending school from May 17th until graduation.

The SAB feels that with such a reward offered, students will try harder to do better in school. Any student who has made honors, either first or second, three times or has improved by one or more letter grades in five classes is eligible for this exemption from attending school.

Such a move is unprecedented in S.H.S. history but if this pioneer plan works, it will be permanently incorporated into the school system.

DECA

Store Busted

Police, with guns drawn, broke down the door of the Deca Store today, despite Mr. Levv's insistance that due to school policy that the Deca Store could not be opened during classes. The police came back later with a warrant and proceeded to comb the store for drugs and related paraphernalia, but found nothing. One of the officers felt obligated to support this fine school organization by buying a candy bar. This led to a euphoric feeling which he reported to his superiors. They began opening all the Reeses' Peanut Butter Cups and Heath Bars and discovered they were laced with THC. Mr. Lev is now serving 15 minutes to life in the Student Lounge for contributing to the delinquency of minors.

Vacation Restored

It was announced today that Stamford High School will have six of the lost snow days as vacation. The Board of Education reached this decision yesterday at a meeting when a group of Palestinian Guerillas burts into the room and demended the restoration of the April Vacation.

Amid the confusion, one board member managed to escape and notify the police. But even Stamford's finest were held at bay by the gunmen. The Air Force Marines, Army and Navy were helpless in the face of such determination.

When things were bleakest Mr. Markosky thought of the one person who could help-- Mr. Scanlon. By day he is an English teacher, but by night he is a super hero. He pulled up to the scene in a 1969 VW wearing blue jeans and a leather jacket with a Nixon button on it. Parking his car on the football field, he quickly sized up the situation.

Waving a white handkerchief, he made his way into the board of education building amid a hail of bullets. Within minutes all was quiet. Suddenly, Scanlon's head appeared in the window beckoning the police to come in. There on the floor were the guerillas --asleep.

Mr. Markosky asked, "How did you do it?" to which Mr. Scanlon replied, "I merely told them the story of my life."

Although the raid was over, it left the board members shaken and as Scanlon's reward granted S.H.S. the six vacation days. It seems the senior class treasury wasn't wasted after all.

Senior Skip Day

Due to the terrible weather conditions on March 17th, Senior Skip Day has been rescheduled for Friday, April 7th. This date was chosen by adding 18 to the original. The Senior class felt that 18 was significant since they will be graduation on June 18th. All are asked to please cooperate with this revision, and any student interested in taking a trip to Lost Cause, Pennsylvania should sign up with any Senior Class Officer.
