

Prom Holds Memories

The night of May 14 holds out the promise of excitement for the Class of 1978 as they hold the Junior Prom at Laddin's Terrace. Music will be provided by Fast Fingers, and there will be lots of food and drink for everyone.

Proms are special occasions and live up to this calling. Seeing dungarees and sneakers transformed into tuxedos and long dresses is worth the price of admission all by itself. Florists do a big business this time of year, and the corsages and boutonnieres enhance the appearance of those who wear them. It's hard to believe that these young ladies and gentlemen are the same as those roaming the halls of S.H.S.

But Prom Night does something special to a person and makes it all worthwhile. It's going to be the best Prom yet according to the Juniors. And why not? It's their night and they will enjoy it to the utmost. Memories will live forever, perhaps in a scrapbook with dried flowers, faded photographs and tickets torn in half. That's the way it's always been and always will be. Let's keep it that way.

Law Day

On May 2nd, the city of Stamford celebrated Law Day. As an adjunct to this, students were selected from the three public high schools to take over for many of the officials at City Hall. The Young Democrats organized this with the cooperation of the Board of Education. Unfortunately, the entire day lacked any type of organization. Rarely did the student participants partake in any activities which enlighten them and cause inspiration.

Each student is given a job--Tax Collector Public Works, Police Chief, etc. Supposedly the student was to become that official--sitting in on meetings, joining discussions, and voicing the opinion of the youth of this community. In reality the student follows the superior around and tries to accomplish something--usually unsuccessfully.

Law Day could be successful if the people who arrange it took more pride in it. Unfortunately, no one, including students, staff organizers, or superiors, knew exactly what the purpose of the entire day was. Maybe next year they will arrange discussions among the participants themselves so they may share what they experienced and in turn really learn something from their day as Municipals.

Mr. E. Robert Atanasio, 603-a, has been providing job leads for S.H.S. students this school year. Please do not hesitate to see Mr. A when in need of employment. Mr. A. is also directing the Career Work Experience Program.
