

Halloween Regalia

by Hillary Storch

For those of you who leave things for the last minute and are in need of a costume for tonight here are some suggestions: In the line of T.V. show characters there is Don Kirshner, a Conehead, one of the Fatbottoms, a Killer Bee, Mr. Bill, or Spot. Or if you are going out as a twosome there are the Blues Brothers.

If you are an "early to bed" person and are into prime time more than the late night shows, there is Mork, Mork's Egg, or Tattoo (if you are on the short side). If you are a guy who wants a little attention you can dress up as one of T.V.'s better looking blondes such as Loni Anderson, Susan Anton, or Cheryl Ladd.

If you are into commercials and are going out in a bunch you can dress as the Fruit of the Loom Guys or the Budweiser Taste Buds. If you are more of a loner you can go out as the Lonely Repair Man, the Fig Newton, a Scrubbing Bubble or (if you are a little tall) the Jolly Green Giant or (if you are a little short) there is Little Sprout. If you are a neat freak you can go as the Tidy Bowl Man or Mr. Clean. For those of you who are a little more messy there is always Schneider.

If you are a politically minded person you can opt for Jimmy Carter, Menachem Begin, or Anwar Sadat.

If you are going out tonight with your favorite guy or girl there are couples such as Romeo and Juliet or Archie and Edith Bunker.

For those of you who do not want to admit to getting older and would like to revert back to your childhood days for the night (unless of course you still have not left them), you can dress as a baby, Little Bo Peep, Raggedy Ann or Andy, Wonder Woman, Batman, Spiderman, Superman, or any other super hero.

If you have no nerve or imagination you can always resort to the usual ghosts, goblins, monsters, and witches.

Whoever or whatever you choose to be, live it up and HAVE FUN!!!!

Hot off the Press

We at the Round Table would like to introduce the new Graphic Arts teacher, Mr. Al Masciotti. Before coming to S.H.S., Mr. Masciotti taught printing at the Vocational Rehabilitation Center for Disturbed Adolescents in New York.

This new addition to the staff majored in Graphic Arts at the Voohrees Technical Institute of New York and also studied at City College of New York.

Besides printing, Mr. Masciotti enjoys music, scuba diving, fishing, and camping. He has camped in Canada, Europe, Mexico, as well as all over the United States.

We would like to welcome Mr. Masciotti to S.H.S. and hope that his relationship with the Round Table is a long and prosperous one.

Dress Code: We've come a long way...

by Donna Bogdanski
 The S.H.S. dress code, formed by the combined efforts of the Student Council and the faculty, has been prepared in order to remove any doubts about what is or isn't appropriate in student attire. It is proposed that every student conduct himself and dress in such a manner that he will be above reproach. Our standards have been set high so that students may achieve their moral and social potential. The Code of Dress is as follows:

Girls - 1. May wear culottes provided they are A-line divided skirts.

2. Will wear foot coverings such as stockings, socks, or peds.

3. Will not wear Bermudas with an overshirt, pants, very short skirts, or short kilts.

4. Will not use exotic or formal makeup or extreme hairstyles.

5. Will not wear tight sweaters or tight fitting skirts.

6. Will not wear open toed sandals or boots (except during inclement weather).

Boys-1. May wear dungarees, provided they are not bleached, torn, patched, cut off or frayed at the bottom.

2. Will wear socks at all times.

3. Will not wear unusually long or bizarre hairstyles. Hair will not cover eyebrows or ears or back of collar.

4. Will not wear extremes in footwear such as sandals, shoes with taps or cleats, or boots (except during inclement weather).

At the Movies

by Bruce Miller
 I recently viewed a new movie, "Meteor." Another Hollywood disaster extravaganza, the mishaps in this movie are surely terrible, but the biggest disaster is the film itself. The plot is thin and unbelievable. Sean Connery does a fair job in his part, but for naught. The special effects are ghastly, as is the rest of the movie - it is a definite no-see.

This month, I also saw the well made "Time after Time," Based loosely on H. G. Wells The Time Machine, this film succeeds in keeping the viewer on the edge of his seat. The beginning is a little hard to follow, but it becomes clear at the end. The special effects look like something out of a Walt Disney movie, but the terrific plot makes up for them. A movie that should be seen by all, at the right TIME.....

Kings of the Mountain

Many high school students look forward to being a senior. Being at the top of the ladder has both advantages and disadvantages.

One of the drawbacks to being a senior is having the responsibility of setting a good example for the underclassmen.

The year is a busy one with many trips to the Guidance Department for information about colleges and future plans, which happens to be a big pain!

The advantages of being a senior are that you're at the top. An upperclassman should enjoy his last year of high school. Education is very important; without it a person can not make it in this world. Many seniors plan to go on to college. Graduates of 1980 will miss S.H.S., but they know that they must move on ultimately. Students must go out into the world and use what they have learned. 1980 is the year for some!

Innuendo

Yo, beans...Imogene back with a real shocker...In the race for the most gossip freshmen call the shots this time....For a real hot spot, J.A. has been throwing some really wild parties, but don't you think you're getting a little burnt out???...Just heard from the grapevine--N.S. is getting some mysterious letters...On the subject of N.S., what are you doing looking at purple skirts?!?! For confirmation L.B. should confess he's a sinner..C.R. you frosh, grow up and be posh, T.H..D.S. wake up...P.O. really does exist!!....Hot off the press...P.H., they want your body!?! Are they still looking for disco Jan?...E.A., have you been having fun lately???...T.D., do you really get into Burgundy velour?...The latest is that D.S. likes swimming in fountains....M.R. we're all still wondering how long it's going to last...For a real pain in the neck, N.S. is seeing J.D. and D.W....But what we'd really like to know is...if I.K. and D.B. will last longer than two days?!?!? T.H. just stopped by and was wondering if D.W. follows the Guru? Bob and Fran, won't you ever learn?...Off the record, B.K., how do you really feel about B.T.???...C.W. just came by with the candles & we'd all like to wish Kathy a Happy Belated Birthday...Monique, what's the big deal about purple?...D.S., we hope the fence you fell off was picket.....

We're all wondering what happened to the sophomores this issue...that bears looking into further...You're falling behind!!! Just got the latest bulletin that L.W. isn't really dead...No wonder the class of '82 is so quiet! Hey Chuck, are you still getting those phone calls? You should change your number.....Yo, Tracy, D.B. says it! L.V., what's this I hear about Almond Joys?!?!?...By the way L.V., we are waiting to hear more about R.D.....

Now that they're upperclassmen (persons?) the juniors are very hard to get a hold of.... But I did get the chance to hear about S.P.'s Pop Tarts...It seems that J.P. missed something from band practice, but I'll never tell! By the way John, where do you keep your knife?

You Seniors are keeping it so close to the vest Ol' Imogene hasn't heard a word..... I can't believe you got beat out by the frosh. Well, better luck next time...This is Imogene signing off.....HAPPY HALLOWEEN.

I Remember Halloween

by Leo Aloupis

As the leaves began to change color and the weather became cooler I automatically knew that October 31 was just around the corner. I distinctly remember the night before Halloween my friends and I would make our costumes and prepare our pumpkins for display on our windowsills.

Another thing I remember is helping my mother stuff Halloween candy bags for the neighborhood children who would come Trick or Treating at our door.

On Halloween night my friends and I would go door to door collecting candy and also money for our UNICEF boxes. As a conclusion to my big night out, I would come home and trade candy with my brothers and sisters & also count to see who had the most. These memories of Halloween always return at this time of year and remind me of my carefree and innocent childhood. Now I hand out candy to the ghosts and goblins and remind them not to eat too fast and brush their teeth. Then I sneak a Milky Way and return to real life.

Just Kicking Around

by Mary Garrett
 Before the fall season comes to a close it is time to give some real credit to a varsity team that deserves recognition.

This year's soccer team is led by Coach Bruce and co-captains Clinton Prawl and Alvaro Guzman. They steer a lively clan that carries a smorgasbord of international talent. A translation book is handy on the bench, since this team is like a mini United Nations.

To our advantage the team is led by veteran juniors and seniors, with only one sophomore, David Grande, who has the potential to be a leader in time.

Our two goalies, Jim Demetros and Tom Durso, are not only tall, but aggressive while tending the goal.

A welcomed team member is a valuable import from Denmark, through AFS, named Lars Fagesen, who also will be helpful on the hockey team.

Spirit and morale are hard to maintain but Jay Putterman is the team's eternal optimist.

Injuries, unless serious, are left until after the game and replacements are often unnecessary. Treatment is postponed until the final buzzer.

Weather conditions may cancel other sports but rain or shine the Soccer team performs.

Games start after school between 3:00 and 3:30. It is an exciting sport to watch, so try it--you might like it! See you at the soccer field.

Spikers at the Net!!

by Ronnie Green
 The 1979 Varsity Volleyball Team began the season with optimism. The three returning veterans are: Captain Ronnie Green, Co-captain Bea Telesco, and junior Cindy Palkimas. The sophomore players are: Helen Mihaleas, Bronice Pikul, Andrea Wahnowsky, Elizabeth Willis, and Lorilee Malloy.

Our new coach this year is Dee Dematteis. She is not a new face at S.H.S., as she has coached a successful softball team. Coach Dematteis thinks the team has the skill and confidence to win.

The team's goal for this year is to strive for its first .500 season. It has a positive, competitive attitude and is working hard to achieve success.
